Open House of Yunker Implement A Success

Even though there were several other main events in the territory, the grand opening of the Yunker Implement company on 159th st., near Wolf road last Saturday, was a great success.

Many people came from near and adjoining territory, among whom were Ceward Bason and W. Weichbrodt of the Batson Equipment company at New Lenox; Orville Schmaele and Walter Martin, from Orland Park and Earl Moss from Tinley park, each being engaged in the same business.

The Allis Chalmers' representative was present and thanked Fred E. Yunker for his past interest in that line of machinery, and then introduced Erwin Yunker, his son, who from now on will handle the Allis Chalmers farm machinery.

In the beginning of the program the new building in which the Yunker Implement is located, was dedicated, and a new toy model of an Allis Chalmers tractor, the first to go from this new company, was presented to Lester Sayers. Mr. Sayers built and owns the new large building which houses the Yunker Implement.

Motion pictures were shown in addition to a musical entertainment and lunch was served. All in all a most pleasant atmosphere prevailed, and the many friends of the new proprietor wish him every success.

NUPTIAL VOWS EXCHANGED BY MARCELLA WEILAND, E. C. TEWES

St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church of Frankfort was the scene of a beautiful winter wedding when Miss Marcella Doris Weiland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weiland, and Edward C. Tewes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tewes, of Frankfort, were married February 18, at 7 o'clock. The altar was decorated with bouquets of asters, and banked with ferns and palms, also lighted with candles.

The Rev. Erich Bizer read the double-verse and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The soloist, Clarence Harnack sang "Because," "Oh Promise Me" and "Oh Perfect Love" with accompaniments played by the organist, Mrs. Erich Bizer.

The bride's gown was of white satin made with long pointed sleeves, tiny buttons down the back and a long train. The lace yoke and peplum were edged with rhinestones. A beaded tiara held her finger tip, lace-trimmed illusion veil in place. The bride wore a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Reece Morrison of Peotone, was matron of honor. Her orchid satin dress was made like the bride's except for cap sleeves. She wore a large picture hat. Miss Helen Swanberg, of Manhattan, served as bridesmaid. Her gown, identical in pattern to the matron of honor's was of Nile green satin. Both attendants wore rhinestone earrings, gifts from the bride. Sandra Nagel, of Monee, wearing a floor length gown of white taffeta, was flower girl. She carried a basket of red rose petals and wore flowers in her hair. Miss Roberta Tewes in pink taffeta, and Miss Betty May Kratzberg, dressed in green taffeta, were candle lighters.

The bridegroom's attendants were his brother, Raymond serving as best man and Reece Morrison. The ushers were his brother, Lloyd, and cousin, Alvin Wanner, Jr., of Monee. The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with pink accessories. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Tewes was dressed in aqua crepe with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations. John Harnack, grandfather of the bride, and Mrs. Anna Wanner, grandmother of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. About 125 guests attended. The table, covered with a white linen cloth, was decorated in the bride's chosen colors, orchid and green, and centered with a four tiered wedding cake. Miss Jean Wilbert, of Aurora, served at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Emil Tewes, of Chicago Heights, aunt of the bridegroom, poured. Miss Carol Jean Wanner of Monee was in charge of the guest book.

The Illinois Commerce Commission, following conferences with officials of Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and other utilities, today took action, to be effective if the coal strike continues, to conserve fuel used by electric companies operating in the state.

The Commission, which on February 6 announced that it was prepared to take action to conserve coal stocks when and if it became necessary today notified all Illinois electric companies using coal, in whole or in part, to appear at a hearing Thursday morning, Feb. 23.

"Preliminary investigation by the Commission," said Chairman Walter T. Fisher, "indicates that if present conditions continue it will be necessary to put curtailment measures into effect next Monday, February 27, in order to assure that vital public services can be maintained."

"We anticipate that electric customers in most areas of the state will be required to reduce their use of electricity by at least 25 percent, with each user determining his own method of complying."

The Commission cited a total of 23 companies to appear at the hearing. The citation said, in part:

"Each electric utility shall, at such hearing, present written evidence showing, a, the amount and character of its fuel reserve on hand at 12:01 A.M., February 20, 1950; b, the average daily rate of its fuel consumption experienced in the seven-day period ended at 12:01 A.M., February 20, 1950; c, estimated number of days which its fuel reserve on hand as aforesaid would enable it to operate at fuel consumption equal to said average daily rate; d, an estimate by calendar weeks starting at 12:01 A.M., February 20, 1950, of the amount and character of additional fuel which it expects to be able to obtain during the ensuing five weeks assuming a continuance of the present emergency; e, an estimate of the average daily rate of its consumption of fuel required to enable it to furnish electricity for uses essential to public health, safety and protection of property; and f, such other matters as may be pertinent to the subject matter of this citation."

These same matters have been the subject of the informal conferences held between the Commission and representatives of the electric utility companies since the beginning of the coal shortage, according to Fisher, and today's action places the situation on a formal basis preparatory to a conservation order, if needed. Companies ordered to appear at the February 23 meeting are being notified by telephone and telegraph, in advance of formal service of the order.

Chosen Queen

Phyllis Yunker, the daughter of Mrs. Florence Yunker, won the queen contest at the Sweetheart ball, sponsored by the junior class of Orland Park high school. Miss Yunker is a student in the sophomore class.

Betty May Kratzberg, dressed in green taffeta, were candle lighters. The bridegroom's attendants were his brother, Raymond serving as best man and Reece Morrison. The ushers were his brother, Lloyd, and cousin, Alvin Wanner, Jr., of Monee.

The bride's mother wore navy blue crepe with pink accessories. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Tewes was dressed in aqua crepe with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations. John Harnack, grandfather of the bride, and Mrs. Anna Wanner, grandmother of the bridegroom, attended the wedding.

The table, covered with a white linen cloth, was decorated in the bride's chosen colors, orchid and green, and centered with a four tiered wedding cake. Miss Jean Wilbert, of Aurora, served at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Emil Tewes, of Chicago Heights, aunt of the bridegroom, poured. Miss Carol Jean Wanner of Monee was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests were from Monee, Peotone, Manhattan, Joliet, Aurora, Blue Island, Chicago Heights, and St. Anne, Ill. When the couple left for a wedding trip to the south, the bride wore a dark blue pincheck crepe suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. They plan to return in a short time and will make their home at 217 W. Kansas street, in Frankfort.

The bride, who is a graduate of Peotone high school, is now employed at the Phoenix Manufacturing company in Joliet. The groom, who attended Bloom high school, is a trucker.

Sangmeister's Silver Anni. Well Attended

The open house held last Sunday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Christ Sangmeister and their 25th wedding anniversary in their home in Joliet was a most pleasant affair.

He is one of seven children, three of whom are living. They are Conrad Sangmeister of Frankfort, the celebrants brother, and Mrs. Lena Laun of Chicago, a sister.

Winter Finally Came

By Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson

This area had a taste of the good old days last week when frozen rain and sleet put most of the electric power and telephones out of service for several days, and then some of the roads filled with snow just after the utilities had been repaired by linemen working day and night.

Ingenious make shifts of many sorts were used to tide over the inconvenience of no electricity, anti-quenched kerosene stoves and lamps, which were once the rural housekeeper's pride and joy, were dragged from storage and pressed into service. Cooking in furnaces and over registers was resorted to; lawn mower motors were used to pump water; milk cans and trucks conveyed water to neighbors' thirsty stock; others drove their cows to icy creeks to drink; candles and candlesticks, usually only for decorative purposes, suddenly became a necessary part of the household equipment. One man, at least, cleaned the snow from his drive with his manure loader, and many were milking by hand in dark barns.

Maybe it's good for us to step backward thus once in a while. Lamps, primitive cooking and carrying water are unknown quantities to the children except for an occasional period of this kind, and the oldsters may take modern blessings too much for granted but I'm sure all agreed we had had sufficient discipline when at last the motors began to hum again and the bright lights came on.

A photographer from a Joliet newspaper was on hand and took a picture of four of the girls who were in uniform, Marilyn Sayers, Suzanne Eriksen, Evelyn Rowsell and Dottie Jean Anderson, when they presented one of the Scrap-books to Leslie Lipschultz, a four year old boy from Chicago Heights who was a patient in the children's ward. Other Brownies who made the trip besides those mentioned were: Barbara Anderson, Yvonne Butzen, Margaret Campbell, Kathy Griffin, Claire Ryden, Cheryl Sass, Mildred Schroeder and Louise Wondrasek.

SCHOOL BOARDS OF AREA HOLD JOINT MEETING AT FRANKFORT

New Law Presents Serious High School Problems; The Question: How to Solve

The school boards of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox and Manhattan, together with their principals, met at the Frankfort school Monday evening, February 20, to discuss the high school situation in this territory. Mr. Louis F. Bottino, county superintendent of schools, was present, together with James H. Cherry, assistant superintendent at Joliet township high school, and the entire Joliet township high school board and Elmer Rowley, dean of the Joliet Junior college.

Mr. A. H. Krusemark, Jr., chairman of the meeting, stated that it was the purpose of the meeting to obtain as much information as possible concerning the high school situation, and the right educational program for the children of this area. He pointed out that a recent act of the Legislature had abolished non-high areas as of July 1, 1953. This left this area with the alternative of either joining some other high school district, forming their own high school district, or letting the individual districts pay tuition for sending their children to adjoining high schools.

Mr. Bottino showed that this area was favorably located and had the Joliet township high school to serve this area until a definite plan could be formulated. Will county has a relatively large non-high territory that is being served at the present time by the Joliet township high school. Mr. Bottino also presented a chart showing the contemplated increase in school attendance which should reach a peak of 40 percent increase in 1957. He stated in his opinion that probably the next session of the Legislature would again bring up this question of non-high territory.

Mr. Cherry spoke on behalf of the High School board, reaffirming the position taken by the board previously that the Joliet township high school is willing at the present time to serve this area and will continue to serve the area if the people so desire.

He pointed out that the present enrollment at the high school is approximately 2700 and that their capacity is 4000. It was Mr. Cherry's opinion that the present capacity was sufficient to take care of the increase in student attendance in the coming years.

As to tax rates, the contemplated rate for the Joliet township high school this year will be 80 cents including the amortization charges on the present bond issue for the modernization of the lighting at the high school. It was also mentioned consideration a modernization program for various parts of their school, including the agricultural school, shops etc. He pointed out that the assessed valuation in Joliet township amounted to approximately $178,000,000 with the assessed valuation of Frankfort, New Lenox and the northern part of Manhattan townships approximately $22,000,000. Mr. Cherry felt that with this total assessed valuation, all future expansion needs could be met without increasing the tax rates to any exorbitant amount.

Mr. Oster of New Lenox questioned Mr. Cherry concerning the transportation of children in this area if it became a part of the Joliet township high school. Raymond Lindblad, president of the Joliet township high school board, stated that the board was favorably inclined toward providing transportation but that they could make no commitments at this time as to the exact transportation that could be provided.

There was much discussion concerning the relative advantages of a smaller high school compared to a high school of the size of Joliet, the feasibility of a high school in this area, and the opportunity of children to engage in activities at the Joliet high school. Mr. Frost of the Joliet high school stated he felt that all children had an equal opportunity to engage in the activities now offered by the Joliet school. Mr. Cherry further discussed the probable cost of establishing a new high school in this area and stated that it was his opinion the cost of construction, maintenance and operation would exceed the contemplated tax rates of the Joliet township high school. Mr. Krusemark presented a letter from Mr. Virgil Henry, superintendent of the Orland Park schools, in which Mr. Henry indicated that Orland township would be interested in joining Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox and Manhattan in forming a new high school district. Mr. Krusemark also brought out the fact that the present non-high tax rate in this area is 28 cents which will probably be 40 cents for the year 1949. He further stated, "I believe that all of our territory wishes to pay its fair share of the education of the children. It is a question of which system would give the children the better educational program for the costs involved."

The New Lenox board stated they were having a meeting with all of the school boards of New Lenox township Friday evening, February 24, to discuss the facts brought forth in this meeting. It was decided that each township would meet with their own school boards and later have public meetings to discuss this vital issue and ascertain the attitude of the residents of their areas.

Those present at the meeting were: Viola Lankenau, principal of the Frankfort school, Fred Harnack, president of the school board, Fred Weichselberger and A. H. Krusemark, Jr., chairman of the meeting; John Oster, principal of the New Lenox grade school, Chas. O. Ellis, president of the school board, Stanley Gilmore, M. R. Brown, John E. Robinson, Wilfred Sayers, Roland Jetlick and Richard Snow; Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel, principal of the Mokena grade school, Elmer Cooper, Lawrence Kohl and John Scarth; Miss Anna McDonald, principal of Manhattan grade school Harold Weber, president of the school board, Lester Case, E. C. McGuire; James H. Cherry, assistant superintendent of Joliet township high school, Raymond Lindblad, president of the Joliet township high school board, Mrs. Dorothy Walker, Carl E. Meyer, Dr. Charles E. Cohenour and Dr. Sur-en M. Seron; Elmer Rowley, dean of the Joliet Junior college, Ellery Frost, dean of boys at the Joliet township high school, and Louis F. Bottino, county superintendent of schools. There were also present members of other districts in Manhattan township and representatives of the Reed-Custer high school area.

Supper was served at a table decorated with silver, lighted with white tapers, and centered with a four tier wedding cake. Members of the VFW Auxiliary and other friends assisted with the serving.

Among the gifts presented to the Larsons were a silver tree hung with twenty-five silver dollars, and many silver service pieces. They also received a purse of money.

This Is Brotherhood Week

Throughout a large part of today's world people cower in terror of secret police, political judges, and summary "justice." A few words laid end to end in the "wrong" order may cost a man his head; a political misstep can wipe out a whole village.

We Americans enjoy the priceless protections of due process of law. Our Fathers had the wisdom to guarantee us "certain inalienable rights," and to root these rights in the equal creation of all men by the unchangeable God.

"All men are created equal," they said, and "are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, (and) among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness."

These phases all sound very nice when we read them, but when we are face to face with certain facts, we change our thinking a little. We all want to claim we are tolerant, but under certain conditions we fail to be just that.

Been thinking today about the oft repeated words, "All men are created equal . . . of one blood" then I remember the Black man had his country, Africa; India has its race; likewise Mexico; the Red man was native to this country as far as we know; the Caucasian mountains formed the division of the white human beings. Some where I also remember in the Old Testament, where it is written that Jehovah told the Children of Israel not to mix with the pagan people of the countries on their borders. But they did. Then trouble started. Maybe that is what we of this age have done, and maybe the trouble that we started then we are trying to overcome or right, through Brotherhood Week, which surely is a noble thing.

A little history of that week might be interesting:

The National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc. is an international organization maintaining 62 field offices in the United States. It is affiliated in Canada with the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, and has sponsored most of the European Free Countries.

The Conference was founded in 1928 by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, past President of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is a civic organization of religiously motivated persons to promote justice, amity, understanding and cooperation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews. It does not aim at any sort of union or amalgamation of religious bodies or at modifying any of the distinctive beliefs of its members. It does not attempt to achieve its goal by weakening the loyalties and beliefs of those of any faith. It aims to find the causes of, and to eliminate, inter-group prejudices which distort religious, business, social, and political relations.

WJOL To Broadcast B. B. Tournament

by Bill Chanley

The end of the trail is there in the hazy distance. And there in the near, but still dim future is the name of the winner of the Grant Park district basketball tourney.

There also, lying in the winner's circle, are the golden glory crowns that the triumphant cagers will wear when the final game has been played February 24.

Right there with the district champs will be Bob Philbin, Radio station WJOL's sportscaster.

From the beginning of the first battle of the tourney between Crete and Manteno at 7:15 p. m. February 21 until the final gun is fired ending the fight between the seven teams, Philbin will be on hand to broadcast a play-by-play account of each game.

Following the Crete-Manteno game Philbin will broadcast the play-by-play description of the Grant Park-Orland Park battle. At 7:30 p. m. February 22 he will broadcast the Wilmington-Beecher fight and the account of that winner when they play Peotone February 23.

Philbin's description of sports events has made many listeners feel that they too were watching right from the press box.

In addition to 10 years experience as a sportscaster of national sports events, Philbin has been broadcasting locally for three years. He has the advantage of having watched and analyzed local players as they have developed.

The first broadcast of the tourney will begin at 7:15 p. m. February 21 over radio station WJOL, 1340 on the dial.

At the end of the final game the haze will have vanished and Philbin will place the golden glory crowns on the heads of the victors. But it will only be the end of one trail for the winners and the beginning of a longer, harder one. There before them stretches the road in to the regional tournament. Another road also with a hazy end, another winner's circle, another set of golden glory victor's crowns.

New Lenox Women Win Again!

On Feb. 12 at Bright Lanes, Sherwood's women's team bowled against Sherwood's men's team and the women again proved they were the best pin hitters. They took two games from the men without using the handicap given them.

After losing the first game, Leonard Troughton and Les Brownlee came back with 200 games in the second to help win for the men. The women won the third game by a wide margin. One of the members of the men's team got so anxious in the last game he hit himself in the ankle with the ball. The three game total for the women was 2458, and for the men a total of 2342. Better Luck next time men!

A banquet was given for the two teams by Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood after the game and a wonderful time was had by all.

How to Get That Homework Done

Miss Gilbert, our grammar school principal, spoke the other night at the regular Parent-Teachers' meeting, on getting children to do their homework when they want to listen to the radio.

"We mustn't give them a flat 'no,'" Miss Gilbert said. "If we adults really believe in tolerance and moderation, we should instill these qualities in our children. Listening to the radio is fine—in moderation—as long as homework gets done, too."

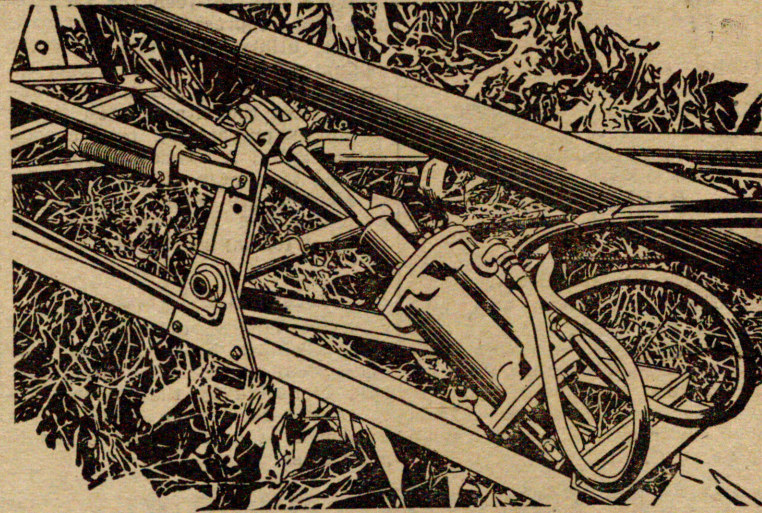

From where I sit, the lady was dead-right. This radio vs. homework problem is a wonderful way to see to it that our youngsters acquire the sensible moderate habits they'll need later on.

I've never believed in hard and fast rules—except where absolutely necessary. Let the other fellow do as he likes, as long as he's temperate and tolerant. Guess that's why I've never felt we should quarrel with the fellow who is partial to a glass of beer—the "Beverage of Moderation."

EASIER, MORE EFFICIENT WORK WITH MM UNI-MATIC POWER

More modern farmers everywhere prefer MM tractors and farm machinery. They want the best in equipment values and look to MM for quality and the latest practical farm developments. Now available is MM Uni-Matic Power—the new hydraulic unit for lifting to transport position or for controlling depth of operation of tractor attached or pull-behind equipment and tools.

Because this new MM development can be universally used on all MM machines and the hydraulic power does all the work it is rightly called the Uni-Matic Power. Constant-running, engine-driven pump gives instant and complete control of the implements. Double-acting jack raises or lowers implements from any setting. Jack may be interchanged from tractor attached tools to pull-behind equipment without removing hydraulic lines. The safety lockout in the jack functions automatically to eliminate overloading of the hydraulic lines and valves by means of bypassing pressure around the jack when it is not operating. This also keeps the jack from operating when the engine is not running so that tools in transport can't be accidentally dropped.

Let us demonstrate these and other MM proved features for you.

Soil Erosion Study Of Corn, Soybeans

Soil erosion is more severe on fields planted to corn than soybeans, according to data from soil conservation experiment stations in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Missouri. Wayne Churchill, Will County Farm Adviser, and Art Kelley, Soil Conservationist, believe that the reason soybeans are usually considered more erosive than corn is that when soybeans came into popularity, they replaced considerable small grain acreage. The result being that a larger acreage of land is now being used for clean tilled crops than before soybeans were used extensively. All experimental data indicates soybeans are more erosive than small grains.

"Soybean News" publication of February, 1950 releases the following information on experiments in four midwest states.

"Iowa Results: They listed corn in 40 inch rows up and down a 9 percent slope and the average annual soil loss per acre over a 4-year period (1944-47) was 19.5 tons. They planted soybeans exactly the same way and the annual soil loss was only 7.8 tons, not half as much as with corn.

"They drilled soybeans solid in 7 inch rows and the soil loss was but 3.5 tons, only 18 percent as much as with corn.

"They listed both corn and soybeans on the contour in 40 inch rows, then the soil loss with corn was 3.3 tons, with soybeans, 2.7 tons. The above are 4-year results on the Soil Conservation Farm at Clarinda, Iowa.

"Illinois Results: At the Illinois Experiment Station where the soil loss from soybeans and from corn has been carefully determined on a slope of only 2 percent, there again has been less soil loss from soybeans than from corn, both when they are planted up and down the slope and when planted on the contour.

"Indiana Results. The Purdue Agricultural Experiment Station, in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service, has been comparing the runoff and soil loss from first year corn with soybeans following a year of corn. Even with this comparison, which definitely favors the corn crop, there has been less runoff and soil loss each year from soybeans following corn than from first year corn in the rotation. Considering that second year corn usually causes up to twice as much erosion as first year corn, these Purdue tests show rather forcefully how erosion will be increased by growing two successive years of corn in the rotation compared with one year of corn and one year of soybeans.

"These results are not set down here to show that soybeans prevent no erosion hazard on sloping land. Soybeans do, but they are less of a hazard than other clean-tilled cornbelt crops such as corn. These results are submitted, however, to show that the statement,

"Soybeans cause more erosion than any other of our cornbelt crops" is far from a true statement of facts. It is erroneous."

The third way that soybeans loosen soil is through the action of the nodules and roots. The nodules are very high in nitrogen. They form and disintegrate throughout the entire growing season. The nitrogen liberated serves to stimulate activity of the millions of organisms that are in the soil. The remains from these organisms furnish a supply of material to help bind small particles together into granules. This effect is similar to the bind action of grass and legume roots."

Both the Farm Adviser and Soil Conservation state that while soybeans are not as erosive as corn, they definitely are a very erosive crop. The only safe way of growing soybeans is in a rotation that fits the capability of the soil.

New Law Makes Fatal Accident A Homicide

Motorists involved in a fatal accident may face charges of reckless homicide, a new crime. Driving a motor vehicle with reckless disregard for the safety of others, and thereby causing a death, constitutes this offense under the revised Criminal Code in Illinois.

Many habitually law abiding motorists are unaware of this change in law enacted at the last General Assembly, Chas. M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club, warned after a recent survey by his organization.

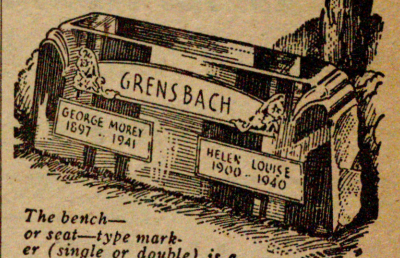

Under the new law a violator is subject to a fine from $100 to $1,000; to a county jail sentence of 60 days to six months; or to the fine and an indeterminate penitentiary term of one to five years.

Formerly the reckless driver who caused a fatal accident was prosecuted for his criminal negligence under a charge of manslaughter, carrying a one to 14 year penitentiary term. Except in extreme cases, the States Attorney had small success in winning verdicts because juries were slow to impose this severe penalty on a citizen with an otherwise blameless record.

Since reckless disregard for the safety of others is easier to establish lish than manslaughter, and the penalties are lighter, Mr. Hayes said, successful prosecutions under the law will be more numerous.

Your tribute in granite to one you love is as permanent as the earth; as perpetual as the rising sun. . . . Affectionate eloquence that will be understood as long as civilization shall last.

The bench—or seat—type marker (single or double) is a practical new design that has met instant favor.

Satan's Throne

Lesson for February 26, 1950

"I HOLD NO BRIEF for him" is a lawyer's expression often borrowed by other people. A lawyer who holds a brief for a man has been employed to represent him. It is his duty to present the man in the best light possible.

Now we know about the early church at Corinth from two sources:
Luke and Paul. The book of Acts was written, among other reasons, to show that the Christian church, far from being a subversive movement as its enemies claimed, was a benefit to the world. Of course this was true; but since this was Luke's purpose, he naturally omitted as much of the church's shortcomings as he could, and played up the good features.

Dr. Foreman

Church with the Lid Off

Paul, on the other hand, writing to the church at Corinth (and to others as well), held no brief for them. He was not trying to praise them or to tell anybody how good they were.

He knew them intimately; he had indeed converted most of the members.

His letters to Corinth, from which our lesson gives a small sample, shows us a church "with the lid off."

Where Satan's Throne Is

YEARS AFTERWARD, another Christian writer said of another church that they lived "where Satan's throne is." You might almost have said the same thing of Corinth. It was a large commercial city; people from everywhere funneled into it. Like any city of this sort it had earned a reputation for wickedness of every kind—drink, liquor, gambling, women, cut-throat business, rotten politics—it was all there. Even in the easy-going Roman world, Corinth was notorious.

Corinth was a sort of man-made jungle, like our own great cities today. It made a sort of test case: If the church could succeed in Corinth it could succeed anywhere.

If the power of Christ could make new men and women out of the denizens of that great city, there was no jungle, man-made or nature-made where Christ could not go. Can men and women be Christian in the midst of a non-Christian, even anti-Christian world?

Our Pagan World

PAUL'S ANSWER, of course, is Yes: on one condition. You must take your pattern for living from Jesus, not from the world around you. The big problem at Corinth, which included all other problems, was the fact that the Christians there were acting too much like the people outside the church. Christians must be different! insisted Paul. This is not an echo of a bygone time.

Our own world is a new Corinth. Even into the remotest village, the most isolated farm, the world of our time pushes in, by radio, movies, magazines and papers and advertising, even by schools and clubs.
And it is a pagan world.

Take the movies alone, that fertile source of most young people's ideas. Hollywood's idea of marriage—a temporary affair till boredom do us part; Hollywood's idea of a good time—liquor flowing free; Hollywood's idea of success —an immense house with an even bigger swimming pool.

Not that there are no good moving pictures; but in general what is made glamorous on a thousand screens is anything but a Christian world.

And Be Ye Separate

PAUL KNEW it is not practical to have no contact with evil.
He would not approve of Christians going into monasteries where they would henceforth see none but top-grade saints. Christians have to live in the world, even if they live where Satan's throne is. But Christians ought to be different.

The world says: Drink makes no difference; men of distinction do it. The Christian knows better: Christ's man of distinction will keep himself clean. The world says: Let yourself go, follow your impulses, look out for yourself.
The Christian knows better: he is one bought with a price. We that are strong ought to help the weak and not to please ourselves. The world says: Do as other people do!

Telephone Operators is . . . $48.08

Compare it—for steady work

Actual studies in local communities show your telephone operator's wages are in line with those paid by other local companies to people of similar skills and experience.

Now, her CWA-CIO union demands more.

In considering these demands, we can't forget that your money pays telephone wages.

"The Telephone Company is a good place to work"

You've heard that often. Here's why:

The operator gets regular raises from the beginning until she reaches the top scale. Three out of four operators will get such raises this year—without asking for them, without striking for them.

She enjoys steady work.

Write or phone for free booklet—"The Telephone Company is a Good Place to Work."

She gets seven paid holidays a year.

She is entitled to paid vacations of two weeks with her second year of service. (Three weeks with her 15th year.)

She is protected by a liberal sickness and death benefit plan, without a penny's cost to her.

Operators and all telephone people are covered by a retirement plan which includes a $100 a month minimum pension including Social Security.

Telephone wages are ahead of living costs

Illinois Bell operators have had nine general wage increases since 1940, including three since the war. These were in addition to the regular "progression" raises. Their earnings have increased 139%, while living costs are up only 74%.

This is one big reason why we had to increase telephone rates in 1949.

In our bargaining to determine whether we should agree to any further wage increases, we are mindful that it's your money that pays the bill.

The 17 bags, including a steamer trunk and a foot locker, fit neatly into the sedan's new-type giant luggage compartment, which is formed by folding down the rear seat. And there's room left over for three front seat passengers. With the rear seat upright, the car is a roomy five-passenger sedan. The low, sleek styling of the new model is emphasized in the lower picture.

Put New Generator Of Public Service In Operation Feb. 16

A new 107,000 kilowatt turbo-generator was put in service February 14 by Public Service Company of Northern Illinois at its power plant on the Illinois waterway just south of Joliet. It was announced by Britton I. Budd, president to the utility.

The new steam-electric generating unit, one of the largest ever installed by the company, will produce enough electricity to serve a city of nearly 225,000 population.

Installation of the new unit, built by Allis-Chalmers company, was completed early in January and test runs have been successfully made during the past few weeks, Budd said.

The new unit is the fifth to be installed in the Joliet power station and it more than doubles the plant's power production capacity. The four units previously installed have a combined capacity of 75,000 kilowatts. The new 107,000 kilowatt unit marks the second boost in the plant's capacity since 1941 when a 25,000 kilowatt unit together with its modern high pressure boilers was superimposed on the three older units, thus modernizing the then existing plant.

One of the largest construction projects in the area, as many as 1,000 men were employed at times during the past two years in building the plant addition and related facilities, all of which are of the modern type.

The project is so designed that additional capacity can be added when needed in the years ahead. Many of the basic facilities now installed have sufficient capacity to serve future units, having been designed for ultimate maximum use more advantageously and economically. Such facilities include a new dock wall and coal storage and handling equipment.

"Two huge bunkers atop the boilers each have a capacity of 1,000 tons of coal, enough to run each boiler at its full rating for a period of 28 hours, or to put it another way, enough to heat the average home for about 200 years."

With the new unit in service, the Joliet power plant will use about 1,500 tons of coal a day. The enlarged coal storage yard adjoining the station has a capacity of approximately 250,000 tons.

The new unit consumes less coal per kilowatt hour than the four older units in the station and is the most efficient condensing turbo generating unit installed to date by the company. Both the steam pressure of 1250 pounds per square inch and the temperature of 1000 degrees Fahrenheit will be the highest of any Public Service Company unit now in operation.

For handling of coal barges, a new dock wall 900 feet long, was built adjacent to the station along the south bank of the Illinois waterway. The first barge load of coal tied up at the new dock Nov. 23.

Other important related facilities include a new 84 inch and a new 30 inch steel pipe connecting the station with a cribhouse in the waterway. The large pipe serves as intake for circulating water for the new turbo-generator while the smaller pipe is an intake for general water service in the plant. A second 84 inch pipe, made of precast concrete, handles discharge waters.

The new unit and related improvements are a part of a multi-million dollar postwar expansion program undertaken four years ago by Public Service Company which now serves more than 445,000 electric customers in northern Illinois outside Chicago.

With the Joliet unit now in service, the capacity of the interconnected system of Public Service and

Week. The Friendly church welcomes you to worship with us, whoever you are.

three associated companies (Commonwealth Edison Company, Western United Gas and Electric company, and Illinois Northern Utilities) serving Chicago and northern Illinois is 2,652,000 kilowatts.

BASKETBALL

by Fred Guendling

Wednesday, February 15 Mokena was host to our rival town, Orland Park.

The score was 69-45, and by doing so, made our record 12-1 for a very good showing for our town.

The members of our great team would like very much to find out how many fans are enthusiastic to turn out for some of the remaining games.

We can promise, all who attend, very close contests and should prove interesting enjoyment for young and old.

The squad is up against some pretty tall and powerful teams and are proud to boast of their present position in the league.
